

Milly Skellington Bio

Milly Skellington was born in 1993 and raised in Los Angeles. Working across several mediums including marble, oil paint, and robotics, their work considers the cultural position of painting and sculpture in the 21st century. In November of last year, the artist had a joint double solo show at Galerie Timonier and Hyacinth Gallery in New York, with the project extending across five spaces in Los Angeles and New York, including Europa in NYC. Skellington has attended and taken courses at various institutions, including Goldsmiths in London, Hunter in NYC where he received an MFA, and most recently lectured at Yale. The artist lives and works in New York.
