

sidony o'neal is an artist and writer who lives and works in Portland, OR. Recent solo exhibitions include those at Dracula's Revenge, New York; Portland Institute for Contemporary Art, Portland, OR; Veronica, Seattle, WA; and Fourteen30 Contemporary, Portland, OR. Group exhibitions include SculptureCenter, NY. o'neal has participated in residencies at Mass MoCA and Banff Centre, among others. Performances as a part of DT have been presented with Kunstverein Düsseldorf, Volksbühne Berlin, and Performance Space New York. o'neal's writing and translation has been published with PICA, SculptureCenter, Arts.Black, Interim, and Aeromoto. o'neal is the author of the chapbook LYFE IN A BOTTLE TREE BOTTLE (House House Press, 2020). o'neal has been an instructor at the School for Poetic Computation. In 2020, o'neal was awarded the Oregon Arts Commission's Joan Shipley Award. o'neal is 2022-23 Hodder Fellow at the Lewis Center for the Arts, Princeton University.